

Sport Horse Award Winner Amanda Derbyshire Says Baxter Hill Horses Don't Go a Day Without Their TheraPlate

Wellington FL (April 5, 2018) – “We haven’t had a horse that doesn’t like it,” British rider and trainer Amanda Derbyshire said after receiving the TheraPlate Sport Horse of the Month Award for Baxter Hill, LLC in Wellington, Florida.

“We’ve got a lot of horses to show but make sure we take a TheraPlate with us everywhere, and get each horse on it daily to keep a consistent schedule. We’ve noticed big improvements in feet and circulation. Some horses don’t want to go on a treadmill but they’re willing to stand on a TheraPlate all day. It leaves them very relaxed and feeling great.”

Baxter Hill, LLC was established in Wellington by the Gochman family and includes a 40-stall barn, horse spa and 200’ x 300’ arena. Derbyshire is an international show jumper who studied under British Olympian Nick Skelton before coming to the United States to work first for Andre Dignelli and Heritage Farm and in 2010, came to Baxter Hill, where she develops its outstanding string of sport horse and pony champions.

“We spend about six months in Florida and this summer, expect to tour the East Coast circuits and spend about two months in Europe,” she told TheraPlate Revolution’s Chip Kreiling. “Everything is working out really well.”

The proof is in the performances. Her results while competing Baxter Hill sport horses at the Winter Equestrian Festival have included riding Luibanta BH on Great Britain's winning team for the CSI4* Nations Cup and winning its $70,000 Equinimity WEF Challenge Cup, and riding Lady Maria BH to the victory gallop in the CSI4* 1.45m Classic and Speed Stake.

"There's a brand new summer ahead," said the new TheraPlate Sport Horse of the Month Award winner, "and TheraPlate will be with us all the way." To see more follow this link <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=xynR6FVbEjU>

TheraPlate Revolution Therapy Platforms are the official Therapy Plate of US Equestrian and play a vital role in the winning strategies of top riders in all disciplines. The proven benefits include gently and efficiently helping horses attain optimum body condition with zero impact. When horses – as well as people and pets – stand on a TheraPlate Platform, it helps support increased blood circulation and muscle tone, and reduces inflammation.
